

Remember

Titus 3:1-8

A stylized, monochromatic map of the Eastern Roman Empire in shades of blue and grey. The map shows the Mediterranean Sea, the Aegean Sea, and the surrounding landmasses. Key locations are marked with black dots and labeled in a serif font. The labels include 'Troas' at the top, 'Ede' (likely Edessa) on the right, 'ACHAIA' on the left, 'CYPRUS' in the center-right, 'CRETE' below it, 'Paphus' on the island of Cyprus, and 'Caesarea' on the coast of Syria. A line connects a point on the coast of Syria to a point on the island of Cyprus.
